THE RAILROADER

Crewe High School, Crewe, Virginia

Cover:

Appropriate but rather crudely stamped.

Layout and Content:

Conservative and neat. Could use more variety and imagination.

Photography:

Satisfactory.

Engraving:

Good.

Art:

Conspicuous by its absence.
The little "Black Porter" is well drawn but gets monotonous.

Typography:

Good.

Press Work:

Good.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '48

Graduation! Eleven years ago it was but a dream to the Class of "48" but now it is becoming a reality, for the hurry and scurry of graduation is upon us.

We entered the first grade in 1937 and as the years passed, it was soon 1944, and time for us to be promoted to the Freshman year of High School.

Instead of being the quiet shy people Freshmen are supposed to be, we landed with a bang and thought we owned the school. During this year we became accustomed to the schedules and classes.

In our Sophomore year we saw the Beta Club put in our school and because we envied those who were able to join, we worked hard so that we, too, could become members.

Soon our Junior year was upon us, and, we must admit, this was the year we really began to feel our importance. During the year, for the first time, our class presented a Junior Class play, which may become one of the traditions of the school. Also in this year we saw the first issue of our annual go to press. Because railroading is the main industry in our town, the annual was named THE RAILROADER. Then came May Day, an event that had been discontinued during the War. Many of us participated in the exercises. Then a dream came true, the Junior and Senior banquet and dance was upon us. How we did work to make this event a success!

And now that we are Seniors, the second issue of THE RAILROADER has been printed. The May Day Program with Mary Faye Staples as May Queen and Betty Stone Smith, Maid-of-Honor, took place on May 7. This year our Senior play was Anne Coulter Martens' "Tattletale," published by The Dramatic Publishing Company. It was a huge success! Then came "Junior-Senior," a memory that will probably linger with us for a long, long time. Also, this year, the Seniors were promised a trip as one of their special "privileges."

Then, our dream of graduation! In our hearts we are very sad to leave Crewe High School for it has become a part of our lives, but we must leave to take our place as citizens of America and make room for others.

Although we, the Class of "48," have lost many of our comrades and added a few in the upward climb, we wish to express our thanks to the teachers and friends who have believed in us and helped us to make our dream come true.

—CATHERINE ANN SCHAUBACH

WHEN DUTY WHISPERS

The Senior Class of Crewe today
 Hope to live the words of our motto,
 To answer duty's call each day,
 To set an example for others to follow,
 To see the sides of wrong and right
 In a world of strife, in the battles we fight.

We as Freshmen in forty-four
 Began to learn in a frightened way.
 As Sophomores, sophisticated, and more
 In need of guidance's ray.
 By Junior year we had begun
 To hope for seats of honor won.

Now graduation drawing near,
 We hope the dreams of yesteryear
 Will hold us to our motto dear;
 Will teach us courage that we can
 When Duty calls reply,
 "I can."

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

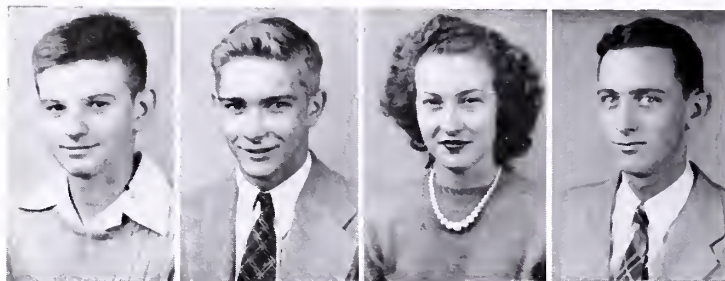

In September, 1938, we, the "forty-niners," entered the first grade at dear old Crewe school. Here we were taught reading writing and 'rithmetic under Miss Wall and Miss McWirt. We then advanced on to Miss Spencer and Mrs. Faris for our second year of adventure at school. We still thought it was wonderful, and took in everything told us. Our third year was spent under Mrs. Bass and Miss Dixon. All of our free hours were spent in the joy of playing jail and jumping rope. Miss Britton and Mrs. Essie Robertson took hold of us for our fourth year. That year a few of us had the privilege of taking a tour of Williamsburg. The following September we entered the fifth grade under Miss Mitchell and Miss Dickerson. We could hardly wait for the next year when we should be able to go upstairs with the big boys and girls.

Mrs. Willie Short, Mrs. Annie Cobb, Mrs. Ocie Hubbard, and Mrs. Rosa Robertson taught us in the sixth and seventh grades. In the seventh grade many of us were in the operetta given by the music teacher. This was something different in school, but since then, one has been given annually. In the spring, came commencement!

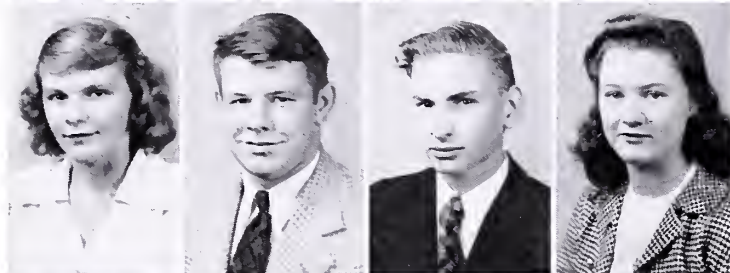

Our faces beamed with joy at the very thought of being in high school. Though the freshmen were supposed to be very meek, we weren't and poor Miss Winn and Miss Kibler tried to tame us down. Our second year in high school was spent under Mrs. DuPriest and Mrs. Hagberg. We were now sophisticated Sophomores and looking forward to our Junior year. This being our Junior year, we sold magazines to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. We presented the Junior Play, "He Couldn't Marry Five," during the first part of April.

Next year we hope at last, to march down the aisle to the tune of "Alma Mater."

C. H. S. BOYS

Let's give a rah! for C. H. S. Boys,
And let us work with all our might.
Others may like black and crimson
But for us it's blue and white!
Let all our troubles be forgotten
Let our school spirit rule
And we'll join and give our loyal efforts
For the good of our ole school.

CHORUS

It's C. H. S. boys,
It's C. H. S. girls,
The pride of everyone that's here.
Come on ye young lads,
Come on ye old grads,
For dear ole C. H. S. we'll cheer.
Rah! Rah!
There is a time boys
To make a big noise
No matter what the people say
For there's enough to cheer
The gang's all here
So hail to C. H. S., all hail!

THE PEP CLUB

The Pep Club was organized in 1936. It is composed of members chosen from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. Their colors are RED and WHITE, which colors are worn every Friday by the members.

Each fall new members are invited to join the club. They are entertained at an afternoon tea in the fall. If they accept the invitation each one must undergo a few days of initiation.

The main purpose of the club is the sponsorship of the varsity football team. At the end of the year, the Club entertains the team at a banquet and awards gold footballs to those boys deserving them.

The Crewe Hi-Y Club of "48," a chapter of the National Hi-Y, was established in 1936 by a member of the faculty. The Club has come a long way since that date and now has an active program with a membership of twenty-one.

Last fall ten members were taken in after going through the traditional week of initiation. The officers serving this year are, Mac Clingenpeel, President; Billy Prince, Vice-President; and Jimmy Prince, Secretary-Treasurer.

The present club has had an active program, giving gold basketballs to Senior lettermen, producing the Queen of Hearts program, and now are planning to present football jackets to Senior lettermen. The Club is also striving to uphold its motto: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

And Girls' Basketball is sponsored by THE ACE OF CLUBS:

FIRST ROW—LEFT TO RIGHT: Mary Faye Staples, Vice-President; Norma Jean Saunders, President; Ann Widgins, Treasurer; Louise Jones, Secretary.

SECOND ROW: Sarah Beatty, Doris McCormick, Thelma Toone, Eva Mae Williamson, Mrs. Dupriest, Mrs. Hagberg.

THIRD ROW: Mae Thompson, Elizabeth Ham, Joy Suhre, Georgia Verser.

"Ace" is the oldest social club existing at the present in Crewe High School. Its members are chosen from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. All members must have a scholastic rating of "C" and must show interest in curricular activities of and concerning the school.

The Ace of Clubs was organized to bring about social contact among students and to sponsor baseball and girls' basketball. Members are required to wear the Club's colors, Green and White, each Thursday. The three-leaf clover with A-C-E superimposed is the Club insignia.

The Club meets at a member's home each month. Before anyone is taken into the Club, she must undergo special initiations and take the oath of the Club. This year's pledges were the first to initiate the "New Look" in Crewe Hi. The high points of the current year's activities have been the tea for new members, the Christmas supper-party at Mae Thompson's, the decorating and selling of Easter eggs, and the presentation of athletic awards.

Crewe High is proud of its BETA CLUB:

SECOND ROW: Courtney Jones, Natalie Farley, Ann Walker, Shirley Fahrbach, Doris McCormick, Audrey Clingenpeel, Barbara Stultz, Mrs. Hutcherson, Sponsor.

THIRD ROW: Margaret Mann, Mary Ann Carter, Cornelia Cox, Janette Schleife, Verdie Leonard.

FOURTH ROW: Jackie Maxey, Lucy Rash, Eugene White, Catherine Schaubach, Eula Lunsford.

The Crewe Beta Club, branch of National Beta Club, was organized in 1945 by Mr. Harwood, our principal, and members of the Junior and Senior classes of that year.

Now the members are chosen from the Junior class, according to their mentality, character, achievement and attitudes. The pupils must have at least an average of 90 and too, have the will to keep this up with a commendable attitude. This year twelve new members were chosen and taken in at a chapel program.

Each year delegates are selected from the club to attend the State Beta Convention.

Our LIBRARY CLUB really accomplishes things!

MARGARET MANN.....	Treasurer

This Club is the youngest in Crewe High, having been organized this year under the leadership of Miss Margaret Farmer. The purposes of this Club are to sponsor greater interest among the students in the use of books and library service, to stimulate reading interests, to improve the appearance of the Library, as well as the service it renders, to raise money for additional books and audio-visual materials, to conduct story hours for elementary grades, and to begin an organized elementary library. The latter objective seemed to be only a fond dream when the Club was started, but all of us are proud of the new Elementary Library which is now being assembled. Few organizations have accomplished so much in so short a time.

THIS IS OUR BAND:

SECOND ROW: Carolyn Hambrick, Natalie Farley, Llewellyn Flippen, Jack Murphy, Wayne Calhoun, Wesley Beamer, Leonard Ison, Dick Allen, Irving Arnold.

THIRD ROW: Johnston Willis, Bob Murphy, Jean Atkinson, Francis Jackson, Mr. Lamphere, Charles Elliot, Billy Thompson, Frances Reid, Jeff Davis.

NOT SHOWN: Billy Prince, Ernest Vanarsdall, Eloise Clingenpeel, Shirley Allen, Freddie Roberts, Donald Moore.

The Band was organized in January, 1947, with pupils from the Fifth Grade through the High School, participating. Many of the original members have dropped out and new ones have taken their places. There are now about thirty members. Mr. Charles H. Lamphere, the Director, comes to Creve once a week to teach and direct the students. He also made the trip through the summer months so that the students could keep progressing.

The Band has presented two programs and many of the members have shown much talent. We are looking forward to having an excellent band in the near future.

And may we now present our GLEE CLUB?

SECOND ROW: Myrtle Sivley, Georgia Verser, Russell Poole, Barbara Dixon, Audrey Clingenpeel, Jerry Coleman, Annie Lillian Byerle, Ann Widgins, Barbara Stultz, Natalie Farley, Betty Claire Warren, Dorothy Love, Clara Totty, Sally Hughes.

THIRD ROW: Beverly Draucker, Geraldine Stone, Kay Crittenden, Jane Elder, Jackie Maxey, Barbara Robertson, Alice Joy Schaubach, Shirley Stables, Catherine Schaubach, Barbara Wilson.

FOURTH ROW: Irving Arnold, Llewellyn Flippen, Elizabeth Ham, Jacque Bates, Betty Stone Smith, Norma Saunders, Evelyn Martin, Elsie Chambers, Courtney Jones.

FIFTH ROW: Wayne Calhoun, Giles Flowers, Jimmie Byerle, John Thomas Smith, James Draucker, Eugene White, Gilbert Branch.

The Glee Club of Crewe High School was started in 1944. This year, under the direction of Mr. Lamphere, the Club gave a Christmas Concert in which they sang many of the traditional Christmas carols. The Club plans to attend the Spring Festival at Danville, Virginia, as well as to give a concert, locally, sometime in May.

On the front steps of "The Cottage" we find the members of THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB—the local chapter of
 "The Future Homemakers of America"

SECOND ROW: Miss Powell, Marianne Crannis, Lucille Cole, Mozelle Carter, Eloise Lumsford, Geneva Lunsford.

THIRD ROW: Hazel Watson, Marie Calhoun, Barbara Robertson, Sally Hughes, Mildred Morton, Doris McCormick, Gaynelle Spencer, Frances Webb.

FOURTH ROW: Eva Mae Williamson, Marie Lewis, Beverly Draucker, Louise Jones, Mary Lou Shell, Jeanne Lewis, Alice Joy Schaubach, Thelma Toone, Betty Lou Hill, Verdie Leonard, Janice Lunsford, Annie Lillian Byerle, Joy Suhre, Jane Elder.

FIFTH ROW: Shirley Jenkins, Elsie Chambers, Jane Stables, Billy Lou Slaughter, Emily Ann Clark, Georgia Verser, Audrey Clingenpeel.

The motto of the Future Homemakers of America, "Toward New Horizons," expresses the purpose of the organization—learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow.

The distinguishing colors of the Future Homemakers of America are Red and White. These colors are symbolic of youth—youth which has courage and an unwavering determination to succeed, yet has innocence and purity and holds integrity as its highest virtue. It is also symbolic of home life, the success of which is of utmost importance.

The Club's flower is the red rose. The rose has been a favorite flower from remotest antiquity due to its rare beauty and affinity for universal cultivation. It is found in almost every country on the northern hemisphere, and is capable of cultivation in every state and territory of America. A Red Rose is symbolic of vibrant, glowing health—a necessary attribute for happiness and efficiency in home and group life.

The Trailblazer, Crewe High School's newspaper, was first mimeographed at the school in 1944, where it is published bi-monthly. During the four years of the paper's growth, the Trailblazer has improved greatly. With each new staff comes new ideas and with the much-needed equipment that has been purchased, we have been able to make the publications more attractive. Much time and work is required in preparing an issue for publication. Many hours are spent on the typing, mimeographing and drawings. The articles for the paper are assigned individually and each reporter is responsible for his own assignment. Upon approval of the advisors, the articles are then stenciled and mimeographed. Then they are gathered, stapled and put on sale to the students.

We have an exchange list and a great many subscribers out-of-town. Much credit should be given to the editors, their staffs, and to the advisers—Mrs. Hagberg, who assists the students in the mimeographing, and Mr. Smith, who helps them plan the "make-up" and assigns articles to the reporters.

As we go to press it's too early in the season to sing "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," so we shall have to show you last year's team and its record.

MARGO'S SAVINGS

Margo Velinski walked slowly home one warm spring afternoon. She had returned from town where she went to buy a loaf of bread for their supper. The words of her friends were still echoing in her ears and she tried to hold back the tears which were about to start. Why couldn't people understand when she told them that she could not possibly comply with their wishes? Why did they keep begging her to join them when she couldn't? These questions were running through her mind and she couldn't seem to find the answers to them.

Margo suddenly found herself at her home, almost exhausted, and quietly opened the door and went in. She was greeted by a smell of musty air as she made her way to the kitchen. Quickly she fixed their small supper of thin soup and brown bread and took it into the dark, small bedroom where her mother was lying.

Her mother had a serious heart disease and the doctor said that she must have an operation very soon or she would not live much longer. Margo had tried to get help from the town, but nobody wanted to help them because they were foreigners. The only thing left for Margo to do was to get a job and try to save the money for a down payment, at least, on the operation. She managed to secure a very small job in a local factory and was saving her money instead of going to the dance with her friends.

When Margo entered into the room her mother was lying back on the pillow, looking very thin and pale.

"How was work today, Margo?" her mother asked.

"All right, Mother," Margo answered, but she wished that was true.

"It—it was fine, Mother, except for—"

"For what, Margo?" her mother asked as she viewed Margo's troubled face.

"For nothing," Margo said with a smile. "Now, that is enough talking so let's eat supper."

Margo and her mother ate their supper in silence and when they had finished Margo went out to the kitchen to count the money she had saved for the operation. Slowly the silver coins dropped one by one on the table until there was the small amount of $30.00. Margo hoped that there would be more because she needed $50.00 for a down payment on the operation. The doctor said that the operation would have to be within a few days and somehow she had to get the other $20.00.

The next few days passed by slowly for Margo and still there was not enough money.

One day while Margo was sitting at home trying to think of some way to get the money, she heard a noise in the bedroom. Quickly Margo ran into her mother's bedroom and found her mother lying on the floor.

"Margo—Margo, someone—was—was—trying—to—to get in," gasped Mrs. Velinski.

"Mother, please don't tell me about it now. There will be plenty of time for you to tell me. I will put you in bed and then I will go get the doctor." Margo tried to be calm, but she was shaking all over.

Margo's coat was in the hall and she ran to get it. Before she could get it she heard her mother call. Again she ran into the room, but when she reached the bed her mother was dead. The shock had been very severe and her heart was too weak to take it.

For the next few days Margo felt as though she was in a cloud. Everything was dim and she couldn't remember the events that followed.

The $30.00 Margo had saved wasn't enough for the funeral, but some friends, with whom Margo was now staying, paid the other expenses.

After a week Margo went back to work in the factory. When she was coming home from work one afternoon, Margo met her friends, who wanted her to go to the dance, again. As she came closer they began to stop what they were saying and started talking with Margo.

"Margo, will you forgive us for misunderstanding you? We didn't know you were saving your money for an operation and we hope you will let us be your friends."

"Girls," replied Margo, "I am a foreigner in this country and perhaps I should have tried to understand your way of thinking. I know we will be good friends and I hope you will teach me the ways of your country."

SNOW

Suddenly the sky turned gray
The day,
Which had been cold and chill,
Grew soft and still.
As you watch you see
From some invisible blossoming tree
Millions of petals soft and white
Drifted and blew,
Raced and flew,
Fell with the falling night.

RAIN

As I lie in bed, my thoughts aloof,
While the rain goes pitter patter on my roof,
I think how humble it is,
And wonder how different the world would be
If it were like the rain.
